

Just hours left to cast your vote

Categories : RTBU News

Tagged as : AEC, election, RTBU, union

Date : 20 November, 2014

Have you voted in the union election yet? You've got until 5pm Monday to make sure the Australian Electoral Commission gets your ballot paper.

This is your chance to have your say on who represents your interests in the workplace.

The AEC must receive all ballot papers by COB Monday.

Ballot papers should be returned to the Returning Officer using the envelopes which were supplied with the ballot papers. Alternatively, the Returning Officer has agreed that you are able to hand deliver your enveloped ballot papers at the Returning Officer's office at Level 10 Goulburn Street Haymarket.

We are urging all members to vote in this important election. This is your union – make sure you have your say.

We are urging all members to vote in this important election. This is your union – make sure you have your say.