Negotiations for a new enterprise agreement at QUBE have finally kicked off.

The RTBU negotiating team met at the end of February to go through members' log of claims with the company – claims which were developed based on member surveys and discussions.

The company has agreed in-principle to many of the claims including having RDOs rostered together and a guaranteed full payment for 76hour duty cycles.

At the moment, the only claim from the company is to make Sydney a base with multiple sign on locations at Minto, Yennora and Botany.

Nothing will be agreed without member support. Stay tuned for further information as negotiations progress.
