

Sydney Trains Train Crew Reforms

Bulletin 13 - 2016

To: Sydney Train Guards,

The Sydney Trains train crew future operations discussions are still ongoing; however we are currently in a bit of a holding pattern, waiting on management to pull together their package so that it can be discussed by delegates.

The union team last met with management in mid-march and we are now unable to progress until Sydney Trains puts something forward.

Whilst we would prefer to be in a position to advise members of some positive progress and any steps going forward, we are unable to do so until Sydney Trains presents a legitimate proposal/package on the table so discussions can continue.

Members and Delegates have continually made it clear as to their position on the matters originally put forward by Sydney Trains and unless there is a genuine attempt to include this feedback in any alternate package then we are unable to progress the discussions.

As always if you have any questions or comments about the Sydney Trains reform issue, please don't hesitate to contact your local guard delegate or the RTBU office.
