On Sunday the Sydenham to Bankstown Alliance hosted a community meeting to hear from the experts about the problems that the NSW Government's development plans will cause. The Government is proposing to privatise the Sydenham to Bankstown railway line and redevelop many of the adjoining suburbs into high-rise precincts. RTBU NSW Secretary Alex Claassens shared his concerns with over 300 community members who are similarly worried about the havoc these plans will cause with apartments up to 25 storeys, and green space such as Belmore Park and Canterbury Racecourse under threat.
